Project Description

The Alameda County HCH Program (ACHCHP) is located in the Alameda County Health Care Services Agency and provides comprehensive health and support services to people who are homeless county-wide.

Services

Services include mobile primary care at 27 shelters and 2 alcohol/drug recovery centers, mobile oral health and subcontracted care, primary care subcontracts at 10 community clinics and Alameda County Medical Center, and an array of critical support services, including case management, outreach, referral, respite care, benefits counseling, health education, HIV/AIDS counseling, mental health linkages, transportation, and assistance for housing, employment, food, and nutrition. The program conducts bi-monthly regional workshops for health and social service providers, homeless coalition members, and others.

Linkages

Linkages include social service, County government organizations, advocacy organizations, and referral to mental health services and emergency shelters. The program implements a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) supported Homeless Families Program, demonstrating the efficacy of coupling housing with health and support services. In 1991, the ACHCHP was honored by the St. Joseph Health System with the Intensive Care for Our Neighbor (ICON) Award for excellence and innovation in provision of health care to indigent people. ACHCHP participates in various emergency services networks. In 1995, the ACHCHP received the California Public Health Association/North award for outstanding community service. The program also participates in the Alameda County Continuum of Care Council

Project Description

CARE LINK - Community Medical Centers, Inc provides primary health care services at local shelters, halfway houses, transitional/treatment programs and on the streets of San Joaquin County through its medical outreach program. Follow-up comprehensive primary care services are available through Channel Medical Center and dental services at San Joaquin Valley Dental Group in Stockton.

Services

Channel Medical Center is located in a medically underserved area and serves patients from homeless shelters in the downtown sections of Stockton and the surrounding San Joaquin County. Services include primary medical care for acute/episodic and chronic care, well child exams, pediatrics, women's health (perinatal and Gyn), laboratory, x-ray, pharmacy, nutrition counseling, dental, medical outreach and case management. More than 250 confidential HIV (OraSure) tests were provided through the outreach program. The program has provided immunizations for Hepatitis A & B, Tetanus and Influenza to homeless patients throughout the year. Medical outreach services are provided through weekly visits to area shelters by an integrated medical and street outreach team.

Linkages

Substance abuse treatment services are accessed through local non-profits, faith based, shelters and other transitional programs. Mental health services are available from San Joaquin County Mental Health - Homeless Engagement and Response Team (H.E.A.R.T). Linkages for housing services include Central Valley Low Income Housing and San Joaquin Housing Authority along with emergency shelter providers. Care Link developed and coordinated the Stockton Community Coalition for the Homeless with more than 30 agencies actively involved and a Homeless Task Force that brought together agencies and policy makers in city and county government to address issues of homelessness. Recently this group was reconvened through the efforts of a Stockton City Council member and is now working to develop a 10 year plan to address homelessness. One significant collaborative effort since the program's inception has been with the Stockton Gospel Center Rescue Mission. Together they are working to renovate the Gleason House, an early 1900's era home located on the campus of the GCRM. By early 2010 the Gleason House will become the medical home for Care Link and homeless patients in San Joaquin County.

Project Description

---

The Center for the Vulnerable Child (CVC) at Children's Hospital and Research Center provides comprehensive care and a medical home for children who are homeless or at risk for homelessness, including children who live in biological or foster families and children who have been newly reunified with their parents. This is done by addressing health, psychological, and social problems that frequently accompany poverty. The service area is Alameda County.

Services

The Center for the Vulnerable Child is a department with clinical services, research, and policy divisions at a nonprofit children's hospital. As a prevention and early intervention program that features coordination of services through case management, CVC provides both a medical home and a one-stop-shopping model of comprehensive, interdisciplinary services for high risk children and families. Services include comprehensive medical, mental health, developmental, family, and social service assessments, specialist and emergency health care, individual and family counseling, infant/parent psychotherapy, family support groups, therapeutic nursery services, and outreach services.

Linkages

CVC has linkages with Alameda County Social Services, Alameda County Behavioral Health Care Services, Oakland Ready to Learn, City of Alameda Head Start, Oakland Unified School District Child Development Centers, the Berkeley-Albany YMCA (BAYMCA) Early Childhood Services, St. Martin De Porres, Kerry's Kids, CALSAFE of Alameda County Office of Education, and Henry Robinson Multiservice Center.

Project Description

---

The HCH Project has been operated by Contra Costa Health Services (CCHS) since 1990 as part of the Contra Costa County Health Services delivery system. The project provides health care services through mobile clinics and through the CCHS integrated ambulatory system of care and the CCHS Departments of Mental Health and Alcohol and Other Drugs. The mobile team is comprised of a medical director, family nurse practitioners, public health nurses and registered nurse, community health worker, financial counselor, mental health specialist, substance abuse counselor and administrative assistant. Homeless patients who receive care on one of the mobile clinics are referred into the CCHS ambulatory care health centers for primary and specialty care, into County mental health and substance abuse services and to Contra Costa Regional Medical Center for emergency, inpatient hospital, outpatient surgeries, laboratory, and radiology. There are currently three ambulatory care clinics, located throughout the County, and designated specifically for homeless patients to help them transition from the mobile clinic setting into the ambulatory care system. HCH staff members are present at each of these clinics.

Services

Primary health care services provided by the HCH Mobile Team include routine physical assessments, basic treatment of primary health problems, such as minor wounds and skin conditions, respiratory problems, TB, and acute communicable diseases. Referrals are made for follow up treatment of identified health care needs. Substance abuse and mental health services are also provided. The CCHS health care delivery system provides primary and specialty care including emergency department services, inpatient hospital care, outpatient surgeries, mental health and substance abuse services, laboratory, and radiology.

Linkages

Clients referred for follow-up care or specialty services, such as dental care, dermatology, and prenatal care, are referred to the appropriate division within CCHS for continued care after first being attended to by the HCH Team. The HCH Project works closely with other community and public organizations to create linkages along the continuum of care for homeless clients.

Statistics

Estimated homeless population: 16,000-20,000 Patients served: 10,310

Project Description

The Sacramento County Health Care for the Homeless Program is part of the Clinic Services Branch of the Primary Health Division in the Department of Health and Human Services.

Services

The HCH Program collaborates with nonprofit health services and resource programs, including Catholic Healthcare West (Mercy), Loaves and Fishes, University of California Davis Medical School, many homeless shelter and program sites, and eight county clinic sites, including a dental clinic. The clinic sites provide primary and public health services, health education, and specialty referrals. Primary care includes acute care, chronic disease management, assessment and treatment, and health education. Referrals are made for dental, vision, mental health, alcohol and drug treatments, nutrition program, and chronic disease programs geared towards diabetes management and asthma. Secondary and tertiary care is provided through contracts with local not for profit hospitals. Outreach services are provided by public health nurses (1.5 FTE) and a registered nurse (1.0 FTE). The PHNs coordinate two Well Child clinic sites with the assistance of UCD third year pediatric residents and a family nurse practitioner. These clinics provide CHDP education workshops and triage assessment. The outreach nurse provides TB screening and testing. Clients are issued TB clearance photo ID cards that are valid for six months.

Linkages

Project Description

Gardner Family Health Network's Healthcare for the Homeless Project (GFHN-HHP) provides comprehensive health care to people who are homeless at various shelters, drop-in centers, soup kitchens and churches throughout Santa Clara County, via mobile medical unit and intermittent clinics in shelter settings. A home base is maintained at the Cathedral Clinic, also licensed as an intermittent clinic, while also housing medical records, case management and substance abuse services..

Services

GFHN-HHP provides a full range of services to its clients. Primary health care services include routine physical assessments, treatment and management of chronic health problems, acute care, women's health issues, TB, and STD and HIV testing. Men, women, and children receive culturally sensitive health care services, social and medical case management/referrals, health education, and substance abuse services at specified rotating locations in Santa Clara County. Continuity of care is addressed by maintaining, generating, and distributing to the community, a monthly service calendar. GFHN-HHP collaborates with the homeless service community to strengthen the quality and scope of services. Other services include translation assistance, client advocacy, and referrals for basic needs, shelter, and housing assistance. Clients needing services beyond the scope of GFHN-HHP are referred to other community agencies.

Linkages

GFHN-HHP linkages and service sites include: Salvation Army (2 sites), InnVision (2 sites), Loaves and Fishes, Family Supportive Housing, Bill Wilson Center (2 sites), Day Worker Center of Mt. ## Project Description

Mendocino Community Health Clinic (MCHC) has been providing comprehensive primary health services in rural northern California since 1992. The HCH program adds to MCHC's family of clinics in Ukiah, Lakeport, and Willits. MCHC is the largest safety net provider for ambulatory care in Mendocino and Lake Counties.

Services

MCHC provides services to individuals who are homeless in the Ukiah area of rural Mendocino County. Services are provided at the Hillside Health Center site. Transportation is provided by a Care-a-Van which has an established route to the area homeless service agencies, including the Buddy Eller Homeless Shelter, Ukiah Community Center, Plow Shares Community Dining Room, Social Services, and A Healing Cooperative (faith-based mental health recovery support organization). Street outreach is provided through a subcontract with A Healing Cooperative. MCHC's program is the result of long-term collaboration of health practitioners, advocates, and governmental and service agencies and has grown to provide services to 577 homeless people. Clinical focus areas include primary, preventive, and chronic medical care, behavioral health for patients with dual diagnosis, and oral health assessments, sealants, and services.

Linkages

MCHC has linkages with Ford Street Project and Buddy Eller Emergency Shelter. MCHC is a member of local collaboratives working with the Mendocino County Department of Social Services and Ukiah Community Center. As a member of Mendocino County Homeless Services Planning Group, MCHC has been in the forefront of developing a Continuum of Care Plan to End Homelessness.

Project Description

Mobile Health Care for Rural Homelessness in Humboldt County is a project operated by Mobile Medical Office, a community health center on wheels. Mobile Medical Office delivers primary care by taking the mobile clinic to several isolated rural communities in Humboldt County and to local soup kitchens.

Services

Mobile Medical Office provides medical and mental health care, substance abuse treatment, and case management services via a mobile unit which visits shelters, soup kitchens, and neighborhoods where people who are homeless congregate. A team, comprising a registered nurse, substance abuse counselor, social worker, and case manager, provides outreach to transitional houses, homeless encampments, food banks, and persons living on the street. Dental services are provided via contract with a dental clinic near the soup kitchen which is located near the mobile unit.

Linkages

Mobile Medical Office works closely with St. Vincent De Paul Society, the operator of the soup kitchen visited by the mobile clinic. The clinic has ongoing relationships with many providers of human services in Humboldt County, including domestic violence shelters, emergency and transitional housing shelters, alcohol and drug care facilities, and Humboldt County Department of Health and Human Services. Mobile Medical Office is an active member and participant in the Humboldt Homeless and Housing Coalition, the Continuum of Care organization for Humboldt County.

Project Description

The San Francisco Health Care for the Homeless Project (SFHCHP) is a partnership between the San Francisco Department of Public Health and the San Francisco Community Clinic Consortium (SFCCC). The project provides comprehensive health care to individuals who are homeless. Services are provided at community health centers, public health clinics, shelter-based clinics, other homeless service provider agencies, and through a mobile outreach program.

Services

The SFCCC provides administration, fiscal management, project reporting, and monitoring. SFCCC also operates the mobile outreach program, Street Outreach Services (SOS). SFCCC contracts with eight of its partner health centers and the San Francisco Department of Public Health for additional HCH services, including primary and urgent medical care, dental care, and substance abuse, mental health, case management, and outreach services

Linkages

HCH services are provided at more than 60 community sites, including shelters, drop-in centers, food programs, substance abuse treatment sites, and supportive housing programs. Inpatient services are mainly provided by San Francisco General Hospital, which also provides specialty consultations, emergency services, and additional pharmaceuticals.

Project Description

The HCH Program serves San Mateo County, a culturally and geographically diverse community located directly south of San Francisco. Since its inception in 1991, the San Mateo HCH Program has expanded services and sites to serve homeless individuals and families through a comprehensive health care network that aims to reach all the communities in San Mateo County where homeless populations are concentrated.

Services

HCH promotes comprehensive health care and enabling services for homeless individuals and families through an integrated service network designed to engage and create access to care. Front line services are offered at the 11 SMMC clinic sites, the County's Public Health Mobile Clinic and Behavioral Health and Recovery Services Department (for case management and access to four regional centers). In order to reach more homeless individuals, HCH contracts with community agencies, including the county's only 330(e) Community Health Center, fixed and mobile dental clinics and the County's largest homeless shelter/services provider. HCH patients can also access the full-range of specialty care services at the SMMC Main Campus Clinics.

Linkages

The project has linkages with more than 30 public and private agencies in San Mateo County. The HCH program provides outreach and case management for health and social services, including San Mateo County Health Services Agency's continuum of health care, mental health, substance abuse, and more.

Project Description

The Santa Clara Valley Health and Hospital System (SCVHHS) comprises five departments: Valley Medical Center, Ambulatory and Community Health Services, Mental Health, Alcohol/Drug Services, and Public Health. The Valley Healthcare for the Homeless Program (VHHP) resides in Ambulatory and Community Health Services (ACHS), the primary provider of outpatient services. ACHS operates a network of 10 fixed sites, along with a shelter clinic, two mobile medical units, and two mobile dental units. Nine of ACHS's fixed sites, along with a mobile medical unit and a mobile dental unit form 11 access points for health care to individuals who are homeless or near-homeless and other vulnerable groups.

Services

ACHS provides a full range of primary and specialty care, dental, and ancillary services, including laboratory, radiology, pharmacy, health education, care management, nutrition, and social services. The service strategy is to use a care coordination model to create a "medical home" to improve access to health care, enhance health services, promote continuity of care, and strengthen linkages with non-medical housing and support programs.

Project Description

The mission of St. Vincent de Paul Village is to help our neighbors in need break the cycle of homelessness and poverty by promoting self-sufficiency through an innovative continuum of care, multi-disciplinary programs, and partnerships that come together in the spirit of our CREED (Compassion, Respect, Empathy, Empowerment, Dignity) to teach, learn from, and challenge our neighbors and one another.

Through specifically targeted and innovative services and programs, our vision is to break the cycle of homelessness by addressing underlying causes: poverty, the difficulty of finding work that pays a livable wage, access to medical care, mental illness, drug addiction, and domestic violence. We help homeless persons help themselves to become self-sufficient, productive members of society through an extensive and innovative continuum of care.

The Village Family Health Center (VFHC) is a program of our organization. It is the largest provider of comprehensive health care to the uninsured in San Diego. Established in 1987, the VFHC offers comprehensive health services to the uninsured, homeless, and medically indigent people in downtown San Diego.

Services

Our services include general medicine, pediatrics, obstetrics, dermatology, ophthalmology, dentistry, gynecology, and laboratory and dispensary services. Additionally, psychiatry is provided by physicians of the Family Medicineâ€“Psychiatry Residency Program through an innovative partnership with the University of California, San Diego School of Medicine.
