Centro San Vicente Homeless Clinic, a satellite clinic operated by Centro San Vicente, is located within the Opportunity Center where Myrtle Street Shelter serves as a multi-purpose shelter for individuals who are homeless.

Services

Referrals to the Centro San Vicente Homeless Clinic are received from 30 shelters, six orphanages, and numerous housing facilities throughout the community. The clinic is open full-time, 5 days a week. Transportation, provided by the Opportunity Center, is also available. Providence Memorial Hospital subsidizes the laboratory and pharmacy services. Various support services offered by the Opportunity Center provide food, shelter, and behavioral health and substance abuse counseling. Clients are referred to other services at the Opportunity Center or to other providers within the Homeless Coalition. Outreach programs within the community are regularly scheduled.

In 2005, the grantee was awarded a HRSA Mental Health Expansion grant for adult counseling and case management services. Project Description

The City of Austin operates a multi-site HCH project that provides comprehensive services in Travis County. The project's various sites, modes of service delivery, and community partnerships target services to three distinct subpopulations: single adults, unaccompanied youth, and women and children who are victims of domestic violence. The project is managed as part of the Community Health Center system operated by the City of Austin.

Services

The HCH project serves single adult men and women at its clinic within the Austin Resource Center for the Homeless (ARCH), a low-demand shelter and day resource center in downtown Austin. In addition to primary care, the ARCH clinic provides integrated psychotherapy and intensive case management, providing linkages to a wide array of housing, legal, substance abuse treatment, and other services offered by co-located agencies. The project provides primary care to a smaller number of single adult men, women, and families at its clinic in the Salvation Army shelter. It provides medical care to women and children at SafePlace, a shelter for victims of domestic violence, and to unaccompanied youth at LifeWorks outreach center. Dental care is provided via the City of Austin's mobile dental units. Vision exams and eyeglasses are provided at a church facility. Pharmacy services are provided through the Community Health Center pharmacy program. The City of Austin's longstanding relationship with the local mental health center allows for close coordination between HCH staff and the mental health center's ACCESS program. An ACCESS psychiatrist treats patients 2.5 days per week at the ARCH clinic.
