EFFECTIVE STORYTELLING
Value of Storytelling

Storytelling is a way to use personal experiences to talk about issues in a broader way. This human understanding and connection can help:

- Challenge assumptions, generalizations, and stereotypes
- Humanize issues
- Create bridges with people
- Build community based on shared humanity
- Develop empathy and understanding
- Expand perspectives
Benefits of Storytelling

- Help individuals to better understand their own experience, help them find the strength to share their voice, and gain confidence in the power of that voice.

- Allow individuals to be an instrument for change.

- Demonstrating how the health center and support services help, and how it could help others.

- Influence more effective policy solutions and resource allocation
Sharing your Message and Values

- Engaging your audience by telling your story for a specific purpose and conveying that message to your audience clearly.
- Your message and purpose should guide which parts of your story to tell.
- Audiences will create their own meaning based on what they hear and how they interpret things.
- Control the message so they take away the information and perspective you want the audience to obtain or receive from your story.
Developing Your Story

- Who is my audience?
- What is my goal for sharing a story?
- What do I want the audience to feel, think, or do?
- What parts of my story can create that feeling and message?
- How does this story relate to other people’s experiences? To social issues?
- How can this story create change? How did this story change me?

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• Focus on emotions rather than data and dates.</td>
<td>• Use vivid sensory language to immerse the audience in the world you are creating.</td>
<td>• Don't get stuck in the weeds. Edit out the irrelevant details.</td>
<td>• Always be truthful. People can tell if you're exaggerating or not being honest, and you will lose credibility.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Include emotions to inspire and motivate the audience to action.</td>
<td>• Demonstrate a core message through your story. Show them--don't tell them.</td>
<td>• Focus only on what they need to know so they don’t get lost in dates, years, or get off topic.</td>
<td>• If part of your story is not credible, they may disregard the entire message.</td>

Telling the WHOLE Story

- Often messages focus on homelessness as an individual failing
- When the problem is defined as an individual issue, you do not see the connection to other people in similar situations, society, or policy.
- You want the audience to see that larger picture.
- When telling personal stories, it is important to connect how experiences were influenced by policies or social realities
What was effective?
What did you relate to?
What emotions or images did you see or feel?
What could have been improved?
